

Living Your Purpose, Loving Your Life

Traditionally called the 'harmony of the spheres', the plasmic vibration of our solar system is like a musical, a symphony, where we are proactive members of the orchestra.

We are the musicians who also help write the music.
We are the interconnected co-creators of the universe.

The highest interpretation of your natal chart (your Master Template) and, in particular, your life script will be totally in resonance with activities that you love doing, giving you your sense of purpose.

Free will is based first on knowing thyself;
being conscious of your basic pattern for this life.

Free will is also the ability to be consciously creative with the energies that are incoming.

We are on a journey of discovery that is one of increasing embrace; learning to love more of existence.

Our purpose brings us a greater feeling of being connected to Life.

As we expand our consciousness,
we find that our individual purpose is about a creative gifting
and involvement with human society
and our planet—a gifting that is entwined with the evolutionary imperative of human life itself.

We are part of a great project for Life on Earth
to become conscious.

A basic sense of purpose is the prerequisite for joy,
vitality and enduring relationships.

You know you are living your purpose
when your heart sings and you are in the flow.
